

Pablo Fanque Fact File

Date of birth - 30th March 1810

Place of birth - Norwich, English, United Kingdom

Died - 4th May 1871 (aged 61)

Place of death - Stockport, England

Nationality - British

Occupation - Circus proprietor, equestrian performer, tight rope walker, acrobat, showman and Britain's first black circus owner

Children - Lionel, George and Edward Charles

He was born on the 30th March 1810 in Norwich, England. Pablo Fanque was one of five children born to John and Mary Darby. He married a woman called Susannah Marlow. They had two sons, one of whom was named Lionel.

Pablo Fanque was very good at Acrobatics, gymnastics and juggling. He even taught his own horses to dance. He also gave charity to the poor people and the people in need.

He helped people that were poor or in need of help. That is why he is the greatest showman in history. It is good to be nice so that you can be remembered.