

What have you learned about the Ancient Greeks?

Your task is to create a poster about the Ancient Greeks. This can include both facts and illustrations and should be colourful and eye-catching to make your reader want to find out more! Use the border on the next page to make your poster as appealing as possible!

You can get your information from a variety of sources including:

- Looking back at the work you have already done on the Ancient Greeks.
- Independent research either online or in books.
- The BBC bitesize page dedicated to the Ancient Greeks.

Some ideas for your poster could be:

- Ancient Greek gods.
- Who the Ancient Greeks were?
- How they lived, including how they dressed, what they ate and their hobbies.
- The Olympic games.
- Ancient Greek inventions.

Challenge:

Create a thought bubble explaining how you think the Ancient Greeks changed the world. How would life be different if they never existed?
