

For today's English lesson, you are going to be creating your very own book! You will need to design the front cover and then have a go at creating a blurb for your book. Remember, the blurb of a book only gives the reader an idea of what the book might be about.

Book Blurb

If you could create your own book, what would it have in it? What would you choose for the characters, setting and plot?

Use this sheet to think about what you look for in a book – then write a blurb for your perfect book!

Where would your book be set?
